

Cognitive Impairments: It's Not Just Alzheimer's

Two Days
February 23–24, Wilmington, or
April 21–22, Burlington, or

North Carolina's citizens are living longer—into the ages when they are at greater risk for conditions that cause cognitive impairments. How can professionals who work with older adults support clients and their families in living as well and as freely as possible? This two-day advanced workshop will review cognitive impairments, their causes, teach strategies for assessments, and provide opportunities to practice communication skills with clients. It also addresses the needs of family caregivers, and suggests ways to support and assist these individuals in their caregiving relationships.

25 participants; registration fee, $40

Complete the registration form and send it with your fee or your organization's authorization of payment to Libby Phillips before February 16 for Wilmington, April 14 for Burlington, or April 20 for Hickory.

Fax: (919) 962-3653

CARES, School of Social Work, CB# 3550
The University of North Carolina
Chapel Hill, NC 27599-3550

To register on line, go to NCSWlearn.org, or visit the CARES training calendar at ssw.unc.edu/cares/trnall.htm