

The following websites may be helpful for learning more about nonprofit work:

North Carolina - Specific

www.philanthropyjournal.org (Philanthropy Journal – news, job listings, columns)
www.ncnonprofits.org/ (NC Center for Nonprofits – including jobs)
www.iog.unc.edu/popgov/ (UNC School of Government – Popular Government journal – articles on nonprofits)
www.nccommunityfoundation.org/ (North Carolina Community Foundation)
www.ncgrantmakers.org/ (North Carolina Network of Grantmakers)
www.chass.ncsu.edu/nonprofit/ (Institute for Nonprofits at NC State University)
www.learnmore.duke.edu/nonprofit/ (Duke Nonprofit Management program – continuing education)

General Reference

philanthropy.com/ (Chronicle of Philanthropy)
www.nptimes.com/ (Nonprofit Times)
www.boardsource.org (BoardSource—Building Effective Boards)
www.guidestar.org (Large database of information about nonprofits, including Form 990 returns)
www.independentsector.org/ (Independent Sector – leading association of nonprofits, lots of up to date information on issues relevant to nonprofits)
www.allthingsnonprofit.blogspot.com (Certificate Program Coordinator Mat Despard's Blog)
www.idealist.org (Idealist – Nonprofit resources)

www.mapnp.org (The Management Assistance Program for Nonprofits)
www.e-volunteerism.com (Quarterly on-line journal on volunteerism)
www.nonprofitrisk.org (Nonprofit risk management center)
www.cen.org (Center for Excellence in Nonprofits)
www.networkforgood.org (Info. on philanthropy, technology and volunteerism)
www.not-for-profit.org (The Nonprofit Resource Center)
www.help4nonprofits.com (Nonprofit resources)

www.managementhelp.org (Library of free articles on nonprofit and for profit management)
www.allianceonline.org (Alliance for Nonprofit Management)
www.ncna.org (National Council of Nonprofit Associations)
www.nng.org/ (National Network of Grantmakers – progressive causes)
www.charitynavigator.org/ (Charity navigator – all about nonprofits, but more from the donor perspective)
www.nonprofitcongress.org/ (Nonprofit Congress – sort of an association of nonprofits)
www.ssireview.org/ (Stanford Social Innovation Review – great place for articles on nonprofit and philanthropic innovation, such as social enterprise)
charitychannel.com/ (Charity Channel – “to create a place where nonprofit professionals can connect, learn from each other, share information and work together to advance the cause of philanthropy”)

www.tccgrp.com/ (formerly known as The Conservation Company, nonprofit consulting firm that offers several free briefing papers on nonprofit development issues)

www.mnaonline.org/ (Michigan Nonprofit Association)

From Idealist.org - Top 10 Nonprofit websites:

1. At <http://www.foundationcenter.org> the Foundation Center provides information about every foundation in the country. Much of this information is free, but some of it is for paying subscribers only.

2. At <http://www.guidestar.org> Guidestar lists financial information for 800,000 nonprofits. You can use Guidestar for research, and you can also update your organization's entry there.

3. At <http://www.idealist.org> Idealist.org has built the leading nonprofit job site in the country. In addition to jobs, you can also list events, volunteer opportunities and internships, and at <http://www.idealist.org/consultants> you can find the most comprehensive directory of nonprofit consultants on the Web.

4. At <http://news.gilbert.org> Michael Gilbert maintains a great site with daily news updates bridging the online and nonprofit worlds. You can read the news there, or you can subscribe for weekly email updates.

5. At <http://www.nonprofitbasics.org> the Center for Philanthropy and Nonprofit Leadership is building a resource center with lots of great information for starting, running and funding an organization.

6. At <http://www.nonprofits.org/npofaq> Putnam Barber maintains the Nonprofit FAQ - an older resource center that is special because it is based on actual questions and answers posted by nonprofit managers over the years.

7. At <http://www.networkforgood.org> people can find volunteer opportunities, and they can also make donations to hundreds of thousands of nonprofits. Most importantly, you can use this site to add a free Donate button to your Web site.

8. At <http://www.serviceleader.org> you will find a huge site covering every aspect of volunteer management, from screening, matching, record-keeping and evaluation, to legal issues, risk management and virtual volunteering.

9. At <http://www.techsoup.org> Techsoup has built the leading resource center for all issues related to nonprofit technology. In addition, they offer steep discounts on software for nonprofits, sometimes up to 90% off the list price.

10. At <http://www.volunteermatch.org> people can find volunteer opportunities all over the country by ZIP code or area of interest.

Lastly, in addition to these 10 online resources, we recommend that people check out <http://www.ncna.org/states.htm> for the nonprofit state association closest to them.