

Thank you so much for agreeing to supervise our MSW students and help support the next generation of social workers. We would like to invite you to participate in our online training for new field instructors and task supervisors. The training will take about 3 hours and we will provide you with a certificate for 3 continuing education hours.

Please complete each of the 3 modules in sequence. There is a narrated PowerPoint video to view and then a learning assessment for each module. Once you finish the three modules, please complete the training evaluation which will give you access to your certificate with continuing education hours.

In order to access the course, you must create an account on our UNC SSW Events and Lectures Series Portal. Here is a picture of what you will see on the left hand side of the page.

UNC CHAPEL HILL LOGIN

Click for UNC ONYEN Login!

NON-UNC LOGIN

Username *

Password *

- Create new account
- Request new password

Please click here to access that site.

Once you have created that account, you may use it to access lectures and webinars that the School of Social Work provides. As a field instructor or task supervisor, those are made available to you at no charge with a code that you will receive from the field education office in August.

After you create an account, log in and then click on to this site to enroll in the online new field instructor and task supervisor training. Please click on "Take me to my training". It will open up another page where you can enroll in the course and will look like this:

CE Hours: 3.00

Take me to my training

SSW Group: SSW Field Education

If you experience any difficulties in the enrollment process, please contact Carol Ann Hincy at chincy@email.unc.edu

We hope that this training helps to provide a foundation to you to your role as a field instructor or task supervisor. If you have further questions about field education, please contact your assigned field faculty member.