

Out of the Office: Ethical Practice in In-Home Care

Program Description

Practitioners in many health and helping professions deliver their services outside the office setting. While natural settings such as clients' homes and communities offer great therapeutic advantages, they may also give rise to complex or unanticipated ethical challenges.

In this session, participants will learn a user-friendly model for ethical decision making and apply it to dilemmas arising in a variety of non-office environments.

Learning Objectives

At the conclusion of this session, participants will:

1. Understand the ABCDE Model for making ethical decisions;
2. Identify ethical dilemmas that are unique to practice in natural settings;
3. Demonstrate ethical decision making using the ABCDE Model of Ethical Decision Making;
4. Be familiar with the resources for learning more about dilemmas in this domain of practice.

Target Audience

Mental health clinicians (psychiatrists, social workers, psychologists), early intervention specialists, and other interested healthcare providers (public health workers, nurses, health educators, counselors, and physical therapists, etc.) practicing in natural settings.

Contact Hours

Up to 4.0 hours

Program Agenda

Available upon request.
